Introduction

The policies of Turkish President "Recep Tayip Erdogan" and his interventions in the Syrian and Iraqi affairs, raised many questions in the region, as well, several European media and the Turkish opposition published the relationship between Turkish President "Erdogan" and the terrorist organization "daesh", this relationship Raised a lot of controversy !!

Many countries have relations with daesh, either because of business interests or ideological intersection, but Turkey is in the top.

The group (daesh), which is cursed by the world, has been adopted by the Turkish state and has never denied their relations, and Turkey has sometimes described them as "angry children".

Tens of videos on social media shows the turkish soldiers and members of the terrorist organization meet. Tens of thousands of daesh members and terrorist jihadists have arrived in Syria through Turkish territory. The most destructive place in which daesh organized itself was Turkey.

The former US special envoy of the United States of the international anti-daesh coalition, Brett Macgurek, also revealed the relationship between the Turkish state and daesh, and said: "We had several meetings with Turkey to close its borders in front of daesh. The aim was to prevent daesh enter into Syria, but the Turkish government did not close its borders and said we would not close, but after the Kurds took control of part of the border, Turkey erected a wall on the border and closed it!"

It is worth mentioning that, the Turkish state have traded oil with daesh, in addition to many dirty deals with them, where the Turkish state itself shows its operations against daesh and arrest their members, but that's not true.

When the Turkish state realized that it would not defeat SDF through Turkish-backed daesh, the Turkish government began another phase of "fighting daesh" through lies; it declared its real war against SDF and Kurds.

After the elimination of daesh geographicly in March 2018 by the Syrian Democratic Forces (SDF) and the US-led International Coalition, the Turkish state began to refer to "daesh" as a terrorist group.

With the Turkish invasion of NES on October 9 - 2019, news on the Turkish media about the arrest of daesh members began almost daily.

In this file, we will show the Turkish state relationship with the terrorist organization "daesh", and how to finance them in various ways across the Syrian-Turkish border. That's from reliable sources on the Internet, and through the members of the terrorist organization "daesh" themselves as well.

First - Evidence of involvement of Regep Tayyip Erdogan's government with daesh

The Turkish state has passed 40,000 terrorists and jihadists to Syria. Despite the information published by Turkey about the arrest of daesh members, its relationship with daesh continues.

According to the Turkish Ministry of Justice:

- In 2015, the number of terrorists in Turkey's prisons was 2,850, with only 41 terrorists being investigated, and 2,809 terrorists have not been questioned yet.
- In 2016, 4,605 were arrested on suspicion of relations with daesh, 513 were arrested and only 7 were sentenced.
- In 2017, 2,300 of daesh members were arrested in addition to 470 others, and now only 28 of them are being talked about.
- In 2018, international pressure forced the Turkish state to increase those previous figures, where it arrested 3,015 of daesh members, and claimed that the number of detainees has 161 thousand!
- In 2019, in order to give the legitimacy of its attack on the SDF and residents of the North-East Syria, the Turkish state is talking about the arrest of 4,517 of daesh.

In the past 10 months, the Turkish government has claimed to have arrested 13,696 of daesh.

According to these information, the Turkish state arrested 26,466 of daesh members in the period between 2015 and 2019.

These figures come from the official information of the Turkish state, and there are many things that have been included in the intelligence files, according to intelligence documents for the site "Nordic Monitor", a large number of terrorists arrested between January 2014 and July 30 of the same year, their names were not included in the official documents of the AKP courts, and they were released.

Turkish state relations with the terrorist organization "daesh"

According to Turkish media, only 37% of daesh detainees were registered in the official restrictions of the Turkish courts, and the others were in Turkish attack on Efrin; to fight instead of Turkish soldiers.

More recently, as the Turkish invasion on the northern and eastern cities began, they changed the clothes of the terrorists with new name "Syrian National Army".

Dissident confessions revealed that daesh have established a training camp for suicide bombers in a border area between Syria and Turkey. A French detainee says, he was in this camp and saw groups receiving military training to send them to Lebanon, Libya and other cities in the Middle East.

The information also showed the establishment of training camps for Al-Qaeda and Salafi jihadist of the Turks and so-called (Arab mujahideen) in "Waziristan" - in the northern "Pakistan" to be sent to Syria after completing the training there, and that hundreds of (jihadists) are stayed in safe houses in southern Turkey before being smuggled across the border into Syria. Regional intelligence agencies close to the government of Recep Tayyip Erdogan also revealed Turkey's role as a transit point for (jihadists) from Europe and Syria, and vice versa.

Pictures and videos revealed the numbers of girls and young people who joined from Europe to fight in Syria through Turkey, where leaks through social media published videos of the transit of a number of girls and young people from Britain and other countries across the Turkish border through the network of "daesh" active within Turkish cities and border villages with Syria.

1- Contradiction in Turkish claims:

Despite the mentioned information, the Turkish presidency has denied reports that there is a relationship between the current President "Recep Tayyip Erdogan" and his son, "Bilal" and his daughter "Sumaya" with (daesh), but this denial is completely contrary to what was announced by the President of the Fallujah Support Council "Abdul Rahman al-Namrawi" On July 22-2015, that all the leaders of the terrorist organization daesh escaped from Fallujah to Turkey.

For daesh, Turkey is a haven, and transit station for daesh in Turkey is in the form of individuals and business networks run by companies, customers and money laundering. Turkey is also the gateway to daesh worldwide. As for the continuity of these agreements, it depends on the variables of interests between two sides.

2. The Turkish position since the beginning of the crisis in Syria up to date is witnessing the following changes:

- Continuation of the relationship with the terrorist organization "daesh" and the radical factions.
- Turkish incursion into Syrian territory for the purpose of occupying these lands under several names.
- Turkey's security has been threatened from within, not across the border, by the presence of jihadist factions and daesh members there.

Turkish state relations with the terrorist organization "daesh"

- Escalation of the confrontation between the Turkish occupation army and the Syrian Democratic Forces "QSD", which will strengthen the jihadi factions such as (daesh and HTS) (formerly Nusra) in the region, and revive them again after it reduced its operations because of its almost final defeat by Syrian Democratic Forces and the US - led International Coalition.

3- Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi's brother:

Many visits by the brother of "Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi,"Juma" to Turkey months before the killing of al-Baghdadi, where he got through thousands of kilometers within Turkish territory (the state in NATO) without being arrested.

This information was revealed by the British newspaper (The National). "Juma" is the brother of former Islamic State terrorist leader Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi, who traveled several times to Istanbul, through acrossing northern Syria.

The moment when Turkish soldiers farewell to members of daesh terrorist organization in Turkish territory

The paper quoted two Iraqi intelligence sources as saying that Juma was one of the trusted envoys of the daesh, leadership because he was communicating and keeping information about the organization's operations in Syria, Iraq and Turkey.

According to The National and Iraqi intelligence officials, Baghdadi's brother traveled a distance of approximately 2,300 km, without being arrested in Turkey, where he traveled to "Istanbul" several times and then back to Syria, and he traveled sometimes to Iraq through Turkish territory from the legitimacy land passages; not by smugglers, and it is likely that he is still alive, but there is no picture of him.

One of the main tasks of the brother is to receive packages in which all information about the progress and work of "daesh", and through an intermediary person who transmitted all the information to "Juma" and therefore to "Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi"

1- The killing of Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi:

The leader of the terrorist organization "daesh", Ibrahim Awad Ibrahim Ali Badri al-Samarrai, aka "Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi"

The leader of the terrorist organization "Daesh" Ibrahim Awad Ibrahim Ali Badri al-Samarrai, aka "Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi"

The Americans, Iraqis, and the Syrian Democratic Forces (SDF) watched the leader of the terrorist organization daesh, Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi, in the five months before the operation. SDF succeed in planting a "spy" who collected all the information in details of "Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi" with his position near the border areas with Turkey and Idlib. This is what the US intelligence community considered a successful and historic for the Kurdish intelligence.

On October 27, 2019, Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi was killed in a joint operation between the US military and the Syrian Democratic Forces (SDF) in Barisha village, near a Turkish checkpoint, about 5 km from the Turkish-controlled "Hatay" region. .

The killing of al-Baghdadi in the area under control of the Turkish occupation, reveals Turkey's connection with the terrorist organization "daesh". Elsewhere, in the "Jarablus" in Ein al-Baydha village, so-called "Abu Hasan al-Muhagir, the deputy of "Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi" was also killed in a joint operation between the US military and the Syrian Democratic Forces (SDF).

"It is impossible for the Turkish government not to be aware of the presence of Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi in the area just a few kilometers from the Turkish border with Syria. It's Turkish intelligence region par excellence, and everything that happens where the Turkish military command is aware of it", said by a former senior military official who spoke to The National.

According to the Turkish military official, the Turkish government announced the arrest of Baghdadi's sister in order to remove suspicions about its relations with daesh, and to show itself as a collaborator in the war against the terrorist organization.

Thus, the question is, where are the leaders of the first rank of "daesh" and the prisoners fleeing of daesh from prisons within the areas controlled by Turkey during its intervention in the North-East Syria?

Turkish state relations with the terrorist organization "daesh"

It is worth mentioning in an article published in the newspaper "Washington Post" by the former envoy to the international coalition against ISIS (Brett McGurk), "The US military launched its military operation against "Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi" from Iraqi territory, while he could do so from Turkish installations are nearby, and this probably shows mistrust in Ankara".

Turkey was informed of the operation shortly before the implementation, which was the same time that saw the notification of two countries falling under the category of adversaries, namely Russia and Syria, while Turkey is supposed to be among the allies. According to McGurk.

Second - Confessions of daesh members and their relations with the Turkish state:

There are many members of daesh detained by the Democratic Self-Administration said through their confessions about strong relations between the Turkish state and daesh leaders. To not make this file so long, it's enough to take some of them.

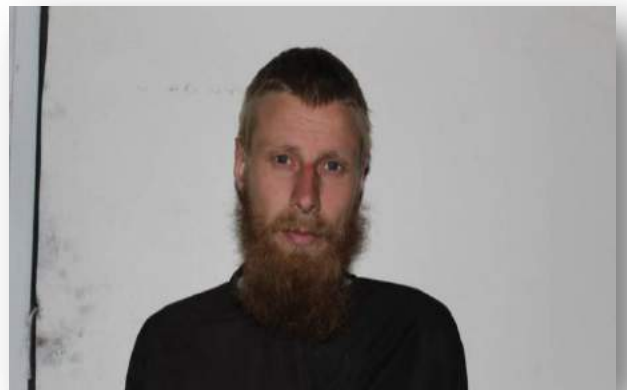

1- Casper Hansen, aka (Abu Majid al-Denmarki):

A Danish national, married to a 14-year-old Syrian girl with a son, one of whom revealed the relationship between the Turkish state and daesh. Hansen was arrested in Baghdad and worked in several important companies while in Denmark.

Hansen has been arrested for nearly a year by the Democratic Self-Administration. He participated in several massacres carried out by daesh in several areas, as well, he has treated for 3 months in Turkish hospitals.

Hansen says, he changed his religion in 2011, admitted to Salafist organizations in Denmark, and in 2013 traveled to Hatay city from Copenhagen airport, where he then went to a village near Idlib city through a man who had Danish citizenship, and who is a member of daesh so-called "Abu Yaso", that made him cross from the Turkish border into Syria easily.

After joining a camp near the city of Hama for a month, he was trained and sent to the battlefields in early 2014. He has been wounded in the fighting between SDF and daesh in Raqqa. After that, he has been transferred to Turkey to take the treatment.

Turkish state relations with the terrorist organization "daesh"

"daesh members brought me to a house for treatment during the day. It was like a hospital with almost all the medical equipment, and Turkish doctors were treating us for 3 months", Hansen said.

He also said, that the borders of the Turkish state had been opened to daesh fighters, as well, the organization received much support from the Turkish state.

In the end, Hansen said, "I want to take my wife and son to Turkey to be judged there, because the judgement will be lenient on me, and then live my life with my family inside Turkey".

2- Thomas Barnuin, aka "Abu Ahmed al-Faransi:"

He was one of the leaders of the terrorist organization daesh. He was arrested in December 2017 by "YAT" counter-terrorism units in North-East Syria while trying to flee to Turkey.

Thomas said that, about 90% of the foreign fighters entered Syria with the absolute facilitation of the Turkish authorities without any difficulty in that. He also said that he was surprised by the ease, which he crossed the Turkish border to Syria through the city of "Antakya" to the countryside of Latakia.

Thomas was in charge of daesh Shariah and Media Institutes. He is one of the main planners of the terrorist attacks against civilians in France (the Toulouse attack in 2012 - the Paris attack in 2015 / 130 civilians killed).

3- Emily Gopignag Kennick, aka "Um Tawab"

French nationality born in 1984, confirmed during an interview that, she crossed the border from Turkey to Syria from (Gazientep to Kells and then to Izaz) through the crossing "Bab al-Salamah", and that there is no objection from the Turkish border guards (Gendarmerie). She said "since I joined ISIS, I traveled once to France through Turkey and then returned to Syria".

Emily played a major role in the online and social media recruitment for daesh, which the media describe as the most dangerous French terrorist.

4- Ilyas Aydin, aka "Abu Obeida al-Turki"

The legal official and ideological theorist of the organization, who said during an interview, that he did not come to Syria to defend and liberate its people, but to establish a caliphate.

His family are supporters of the Turkish Justice and Development Party (AKP) led by "Regep Tayyip Erdogan", and the MHP party led by "Dolt Bakhgali".

- He stressed that, he met with the Turkish intelligence more than once, and pointed out that the so-called "Abu Mansour al-Mughrabi" was an ambassador of daesh to the Turkish state.

- He also stressed that, he was advocating Salafi-jihadi openly in the city (Istanbul) between 2010 and 2014, and he joined the organization based on his ideas. Before coming to Syria, he held the group prayer in Istanbul with hundreds of followers in the name of the organization and in front of the eyes of the Turkish intelligence, He was held several times by Turkish intelligence and then released.

- He confirmed that, he entered Syria across the border into Jarablus without being intercepted by Turkish border guards and that turkish intelligence had already paved the border tens of the daesh fighter.

- He confirmed that he had been in contact with his family and was well known to the turkish media, and he was in Turkey when daesh attack on Senjar 3-8-2013. As well, confirming that he joined the organization in Ramadan 2014 (June 2014).

- He stressed that, the Turkish state used the organization as a card to pressure the United States of America.

- He stressed that, the attack on "Kobani" city was an intelligence play against the Democratic Self-Administration, which is opposed by the regime of Turkish President "Regep Tayyip Erdogan".

5- Savash Yildiz, aka "Abu Jihad al-Turki:"

Daesh external security official in Turkey, a Turkish national born in 1983, worked for Prince "Abu Musab", the security prince for Turkish recruits within the organization. He was leftist

Turkish state relations with the terrorist organization "daesh"

(Turkish People's Liberation Front), but he was influenced by jihadist propaganda, that was published in the Turkish state on social media without restrictions. As well, he was influenced by his wife's relatives in Izmir who were going to Syria for jihad with "Al-Nusra Front". He participated in many meetings to discuss extremist ideas in the city of "Mersin" and "Adana", which, like other Kurdish cities, are subject to severe intelligence control and without any harassment by the Turkish police. He is described by the counter-terrorism forces of the SDF as a dangerous person, and external security official in Turkey, as well as, he is Inghmasi and coordinator with Turkish intelligence.

Yildiz stressed the the problems of several points, including:

- He confirmed his participation and implementation of the bombings that targeted rallies of the HDP in Adana and Mersin in 2015, noting that "Recep Tayyip Erdogan" sent tens of HDP officials in prisons, as well, he has called in a speech to a gathering of supporters to expel this party outside the borders of the Turkish state .
- He stressed that, the attack on the Syrian city "Kobani" was under a conspiracy to kill both the Kurds and the foreign mujahideen, he is believed that this was directed by Erdogan. He stressed that the size of the force that attacked "Kobani" was sufficient to control Damascus, and the organization would have achieved greater gains.

6- Mohammed Abdelkader, aka "Abu Mohamed Al-Tunisi"

He also known as "Abu Muhammad al-Almani", a member of the terrorist organization daesh, a Tunisian resident in Germany, born in 1983. He was bringing ambulances, medicines and relief materials for the organization under the cover of a humanitarian organization called "Helven Knott" in German meaning "emergency assistance". He stressed that it has branches in Burma, Bangladesh, Syria and others, based in Hanover, Hildes Heim, is run by a Turkish resident in Germany called "Bakr Abba". The mediator on his last trip before departure from Germany to the Caliphate was a Turkish resident in Istanbul called "Orr", accompanied by a German person named Dominique, known as "Abu al-Qaqaa". They went to Tabqa city and from there they joined the organization directly. (After the search team searched for the address of that organization on the web pages, they did not find any site referring to this organization, despite his insistence on the existence of the organization's website), he worked in the ranks of the organization as a car driver. He was a frequent visitor to the city of Tal Abyad, during the control of the organization, and transport the wounded there to be transferred to Turkish hospitals.

Turkish state relations with the terrorist organization "daesh"

He also stressed several points, including:

- He stressed that, the Turkish state was able to close the border in the face of those wishing to join the organization, however, it did nothing to prevent that. For example, Jarablus borders were completely open, he said.
- He asserted that, without the Turkish state and some other supporting forces, the organization could not have continued and expanded, as well, the Turkish state was aware that most foreigners entering Syria were to join daesh.

7- Mohammed Saleh al-Shammari, aka "Abu Sufyan al-Shammari:"

Saudi national, 22-year-old, a member of daesh external security, trained and worked in the field of drones under the supervision of the al-amir" Abu Usama al-Iraqi and Abu Dawood al-Iraqi". He entered Syria without obstacles and without being intercepted by the Turkish border guards (Gendarme), in front of their eyes, through the Izaz crossing to the town of al-Raai, and then to "Aleppo" city. He also stressed on several points, including:

- He stressed that Turkey was facilitating matters for the organization to fight SDF, despite the strained relations between both of them after the fighting that broke out between them in al-Bab, al-Raai and Izaz.
- He stressed that, he had received many migrants from Turkey and moved them to their special places.
- He confirmed the existence of an agreement between the organization and Turkey, to treat the wounded of the organization in Turkish hospitals.

8- Saddam al-Jamal:

Turkish state relations with the terrorist organization "daesh"

A senior leader of daesh terrorist organization, currently imprisoned in Iraq, admitted in a television interview that crude oil had been fully transferred to Turkey, before the liberation of Tabqa and Raqqa. He also stressed that, thousands of daesh members went to Turkey and elsewhere.

9- Essam Al-Hana, aka "Abu Mansour Al-Maghrabi"

A leader in daesh organization, an organization's ambassador to the Turkish state. In an interview "the US - Homeland Security Today" with him in prison in Iraq, he confirmed that Turkey was a way for the organization to provide medicines and food; there are many things enter in the name of aid, in addition, the most of the Syrian oil was going to Turkey, and small quantities to the Assad regime. He adds, that the son of Turkish President became rich man because of daesh oil, but the deals were done through intermediaries, as well, he confirmed the organization's agreement with The Turkish state regarding increasing the proportion of water flowing through the Euphrates River for, as a vital source of daesh livelihood.

Third - daesh and Jabhat al-Nusra members in North-East Syria:

There are many terrorist members who are working and fighting with the Turkish occupation army currently in the battles that are being conducted in Sri Kaniyah "Ras al-Ein" and Cri Spey "Tal Abyad". Fourth - Documents show the relationship between daesh and the Turkish State:

In this paragraph, we will show pictures and videos, showing the relationship and coordination between the members of the terrorist organization "daesh" and the Turkish occupation army.

- 1- Sky News Arabia published a video, showing the communication between the members of the terrorist organization daesh and the Turkish soldiers on the border, and they said goodbye to each other.

- leaders of the terrorist organization daesh, accuse the betrayal of Erdogan and let down the organization, in a video published in Turkish broadcast by the group in one of his accounts on the site (Twitter) from Raqqa city, here, a question arises about the nature and depth of the relationship between both of them to the point of describing the Turkish president as a betrayer. The most important question is, why the organization has not yet targeted the interests of the "Erdogan" regime and targeted only the Kurds and foreign tourists? This video may be motivated by misinformation in order to pretend that there is no relationship or that they have reached new understandings.

- Although daesh has carried out terrorist operations against thousands of civilians around the world, including Muslims and others, and executed hundreds of hostages, it could have negotiated for important gains, it was no coincidence that any hostage held by the authorities was tortured. Most of the bombings in Turkey were targeted opponents of the "Recep Tayyip Erdogan" regime and foreign tourists, this was used in the service of political objectives for the benefit of "Erdogan", and to show the Turkish state as suffering from ISIS terrorism.

Here, we do not intend to object to the right of families and governments to liberate their children and citizens, but sensitive security issues have been mentioned that the Turkish intelligence could have prevented or happened with their knowledge.

In this video, the Turkish hostages arrived in the Turkish city of Urfa:

There are many documents show the relationship of daesh with the Turkish government as mentioned above, but to summarize the file, we are satisfied with so much documents and information regarding this relationship between the two parties.

Conclusion:

The suspicious relationship between Ankara and daesh is no longer secret, despite all the revelations in recent years of Turkish support for the extremist organization.

Investigations and evidence shows the involvement of Turkish President "Regep Tayyip Erdogan" and his government with terrorist organizations, especially daesh. There are many indications that "Erdogan" supports terrorism internationally by passing explosives from Turkey to Australia to carry out terrorist operations in Australia against Emirati targets there, according to the Australian government and German newspapers.

The involvement of "Regep Tayyip Erdogan" in the terrorist organization "daesh" is exposed in public as mentioned above, where it reviews the presence and spread of "daesh", which has been on the Turkish-Syrian border for years, and represents a security belt for the Turkish state.

Therefore, these actions of the Turkish regime and its current president, governments need to activate the resolutions of the Security Council, to hold the Turkish regime and its president, the authorities, governments and persons concerned with this massive support to terrorist organizations, judicially and internationally.
